Ohio GOP Says Next Budget Move Is Up to DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Republican legislative leaders have made it plain they feel the next move is up to Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in the battle of the unbalanced budget.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, told newsmen he believes it possible DiSalle will make some move either to shave his budget requests or make some suggestion as to how the legislature can make up an estimated $74 million deficiency.

And House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, echoed, "We are not concerned with how it happens, just so it happens."

The two Republican legislative leaders dined with DiSalle at the Governor's Mansion Monday night just before the legislature started its fourth week of sessions. In a post-session news conference, they expressed reluctance to take issue with the governor so soon after accepting his hospitality.

But, under newsmen's questioning, they reiterated their belief the law requires the governor not only to suggest the amount of money the legislature should appropriate for each two-year period, but also suggest the sources of the revenue.

The governor last week submitted an appropriations bill calling for expenditure of $2.1 billion in general and highway funds. No GOP member of the House is willing, at the moment, to sponsor the spending measure.

Both Republican leaders expressed confidence the budget stalemate "will work itself out" after a joint session of the Senate and House finance committees Wednesday night at which Finance Director James H. Maloon will testify.

In the controversy, DiSalle at the moment is standing on the constitution, which says he must submit a budget to the legislature, and Republican leaders are standing on the basic law which requires the governor to submit a "complete financial plan."

Republicans say this requires the governor to suggest income sources to cover his spending proposals.

UNDER ARREST IN SHELTON EMBEZZLEMENT — Harold Kistner Jr. (middle) is escorted to the U. S. commissioner's office in Sioux City, Ia., to face an accusation of aiding embezzlement of more than $2 million by Mrs. Burnice Geiger, 58, at the Sheldon National Bank in Sheldon, Ia. This came after the 35-year-old Kistner was fired as president of Northern Biochemical. Right: District Attorney F. E. Non-Surplus Food Slated Among Donations to Needy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced today the government will buy meat, eggs and some other items not now in surplus stocks to provide greater variety in the providing of food donations for the needy.

Foods to be bought will be canned pork and gravy, dried edible pea beans and dried whole egg solids.

Foods now being donated from surplus stocks are flour, corn meal, nonfat dry milk, rice, lard and butter.

The expansion in variety is being made to carry out an order by President Kennedy for increased help to low income persons.

Presently about 3 1/2 million persons in 42 states are receiving surplus food.

Freeman did not specify the quantities of additional foods to be purchased. Funds for buying the food are those made available by Congress for disposal of farm surpluses.

The Kennedy administration also is reported ready to ask Congress to authorize quick extra money for the unemployed.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg told reporters Monday after seeing President Kennedy that "there is a deep concern about the unemployment compensation area—and a strong feeling the government must extend help."

Goldberg didn't elaborate, but presumably what is being considered is additional federal aid payments to idled workers.

The AFL-CIO has recommended an extensive emergency aid plan which it estimates would cost over $200 million a month.

Goldberg said unemployment is mounting. Those idle among all workers insured for state benefits rose by 228,000 during the week ended Jan. 7 to a total of 3,289,600. The idle rate among insured workers is 8.1 per cent.

Both the rate and the total are record highs for that particular week.

Over-all unemployment was 4.5 million in mid-December with a rate of 6.8 per cent. Labor Department officials said the mid-January total probably would top 5.5 million.

Ike Drives Auto First Time In 20 Years, Takes Ribbing

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Amid a lot of good-natured ribbing from his hunting companions, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower drove a car today for the first time in more than 20 years.

Eisenhower, gradually easing into the unaccustomed role of a private citizen, was the chauffeur for the four-man party in driving the quarter mile from his host's Blue Springs plantation house to the stables.

"Look out, boys duck," George E. Allen jokingly warned newsmen as the former President piloted a station wagon out of the driveway. Allen is a Gettysburg, Pa., neighbor of Eisenhower who made the trip here with him Monday in the private plane of their host, W. Alton Jones.

Eisenhower said it was the first time he had driven since 1940.

"But I'm very good with a golf cart," he jested, referring to the motorized cart he usually uses on the links.

The sun broke through a rift in the clouds for the first time as the hunting party, including Coca Cola executive William E. Robinson, mounted mule-drawn hunting wagons. Eisenhower used a 20-gauge shotgun.

The former President expressed surprise at the interest in his activities exhibited by the 10 newsmen on hand at the isolated 15,000-acre plantation.

"My goodness," he said, but posed willingly for photographers. Eisenhower, looking tanned and fit, seemed to be enjoying himself immensely.

Eisenhower fumbled with the switch a moment when first getting behind the wheel, but soon had the vehicle rolling smoothly toward the stables.

Eisenhower bagged his daily limit of 10 quail Monday within a short time after arriving here.

Nuclear-Armed Jet Bomber Falls; 3 Die

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A multimillion-dollar jet bomber carrying two unarmed nuclear weapons crashed near here early today. Three men were killed, four parachuted to safety and an eighth man survived the flaming crash.

The Air Force said there was no danger of nuclear explosion or radiation.

One of the unidentified nuclear weapons was jettisoned before the crash and was parachuted safely. The second was found in the wreckage of the huge eight-jet B52G of the Strategic Air Command which crashed about 15 miles north of Goldsboro.

The pilot, Maj. Walter F. Tulloch, 45, of San Diego, Calif., made a dramatic appearance at dawn. He had been considered missing, but he walked from a swampy woodland area to a farmer's home to notify base authorities he had parachuted.

The bodies of two men were found in the wreckage of the nose section of the plane. The body of a third man was found later about two miles from the wreckage. The Air Force said the man was in a tree and that his parachute was opened. Cause of death was not known immediately and the Air Force said he could have been blown from the plane and his parachute opened automatically.

The first four of the survivors picked up were Lt. William R. Wilson, 27, of Somerville, N. J.; Capt. Richard W. Rardin, 33, of San Antonio, Tex.; Lt. A. C. Matlocks, 27, the third pilot, of Maysville, N. C.; and Capt. Paul E. Brown, 37, of Beardstown, Ill., the navigator.

Others on the plane were Maj. Eugene Shelton, 41, of San Antonio, Tex., radar navigator; Maj. Eugene Richards, 42, Toccoa, Ga., electronics weapons officer; and T. Sgt. Francis R. Barnish, 35, of Greenfield, Mass.

Castro Vows New Vengeance

Rebels Rounded Up For Hanging Aides

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro charged today that counterrevolutionaries had kidnapped and hanged two militiamen and a uniformed school teacher the in surgents accused of being a Communist.

Vowing vengeance, the prime minister declared the executions were carried out early this month in the hills of Las Villas Province by a group calling itself the "Army of National Liberation."

Speaking at graduation exercises for 1,200 young men and women of the militia who have qualified as teachers, Castro reported that 20 "counterrevolutionary criminals" had been captured in the area where the alleged hangings took place in south central Cuba.

As the new teachers shouted "Paredon!" (to the execution wall), the prime minister pledged: "Over all of them will befall a persecution such as they could never imagine. Nothing will save them—not even mercenaries they are expecting or their imperialist bosses."

Castro blamed "henchmen in cassocks"—a reference to the Roman Catholic clergy—and "agents of imperialism" for giving "ideological arms" to the enemies of the revolution.

He attacked specifically the Spanish priests who make up a majority of the Roman Catholic clergy in Cuba.

About 100 women demonstrated in front of the presidential palace Monday night against the revival of Castro's firing squad justice and clashed with pro-Castro hecklers.

Most of them clad in black, the women marched on the palace carrying signs reading "end the execution of our sons." Fighting broke out when hecklers tried to seize a Cuban flag they were carrying. Militiamen dispersed the crowd and took one woman and several men into the palace.

The government resumed the granting of exit permits needed by Cubans and all foreigners—except tourists—to leave the country. A clampdown on such permits was imposed when the regime proclaimed an "invasion alert."

'Sleeping' Beauty Mother Is Handed Maximum Penalty

CLEVELAND (AP) — A juvenile court judge sentenced the mother of the "Sleeping Beauty" Fratanotto sisters today to the maximum penalty of a year in jail and a fine of 1500, plus costs for secretly feeding the little girls sleep-inducing drugs.

Judge Albert A. Wolman sternly lectured the petite, raven-haired Mrs. Lillian Fratanotto, saying: "You were not only a bad mother to your children, you were a bad wife to your husband. Unless there is a change in your personality, you should not be trusted with the upbringing of your children."

He told the 29-year-old mother of five that she was fortunate she was charged only with ill-treatment of her two daughters, Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 6. It is only a matter of luck, the judge told her, that the children escaped death and the charge was not more serious.

Minister Repudiates Church Arson Story

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — A Baptist minister repudiated Monday his statement that he burned down his churches in Palo Alto and Fontana.

Through his attorney, the Rev. Leonard Rhoads said he was coerced into signing the statement under threat of the gas chamber. Rhoads, 45, is pastor of the First Southern Baptist church at Palo Alto, which was destroyed by fire last Dec. 13 at a loss of more than $100,000. A 1956 fire destroyed the Rhoads' Fontana church.

Congress To Hear Kennedy Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will deliver his first State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress Monday.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., told newsmen the date was agreed on at a meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with the President this morning. He said he assumed the hour for Kennedy's appearance before the joint session will be the usual one—12:30 p.m. EST.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen there was no discussion at today's meeting of the legislative recommendations that Kennedy will submit to Congress later.

He said that he expects separate messages embodying legislative proposals will be sent to Congress within a week or two after Kennedy delivers his State of the Union message.

Republicans applauded the President's decision to outline his program within a week after taking office.

Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Senate Republican leader, and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said they hope Kennedy makes it clear how far he intends to go in carrying out the spending pledges in the Democratic platform.

"The people have a right to know what this New Frontier is going to cost them," Goldwater said.

Kuchel said he hopes "the excessive platform promises in Los Angeles will not be the basis for the President's proposal."

Mansfield said he is confident

Giant Dairy Firms Seen As Bad Trend

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Federal Trade Commission official has warned members of the Ohio Dairy Products Association of "grave and serious consequences" in the trend toward concentration of marketing power by a few giant dairy firms.

William R. Tinchler, associate director of the FTC's Bureau of Litigation, spoke at the association's annual meeting here Monday. He said the FTC has pending a record of 24 antimonopoly cases against dairy companies.

Tinchler painted a picture of an industry "in which the biggest concerns constantly become bigger and more powerful, to the economic and competitive disadvantage of their smaller competitors."

From 1940 to 1965, Tinchler said, the nation's eight largest dairy firms have taken over 585 competitors and increased their combined market share from 32 to 43.8 per cent.

Nine firms have been charged with "buying" ice cream dealer accounts by furnishing refrigeration, making loans and granting price discounts.

Four dairies have been charged with monopoly practice in acquiring 324 dairy product companies within recent years.

Tinchler stressed that an FTC complaint is not a finding of guilt "but the beginning of the problem of proving a respondent guilty."

Lone Bandit Robs Columbus Loan Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After first asking the manager of a State Savings Co. office here for a loan and being refused, a robber pulled out a gun Monday and proclaimed, "This is what I really came for."

The manager, Allan McFarland, complied with the gunman's request to fill a briefcase with money. The robber fled with the briefcase with McFarland on his heels for a couple of blocks. Then the gunman jumped into a car and sped off. McFarland got the license number.

The robber didn't get very far before crashing into a pole. Police later traced the car to a North-side garage a few blocks away where the robber had taken the vehicle to be repaired.

British Frigate Loses Trail

Portuguese Premier's Foe Said Ringleader

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Warships and planes criss-crossed today searching for hijackers who seized a cruise liner with the aim of starting the overthrow of Portugal's dictator. About 800 persons are aboard the vessel.

The British Admiralty said the Rothesay, a 370-foot submarine hunter, was trailing the Santa Maria in West Indies waters about 150 miles east of Trinidad.

But the Santa Maria was gone when the Rothesay reached that general area. The Rothesay, running low on oil, radioed that she was heading to Trinidad for refueling.

The admiralty said its frigate had been ordered to try to arrest the liner if she could do so outside territorial waters and by peaceful means—"without loss of life or the risk of scuttling."

The leader of the hijackers reportedly had threatened to scuttle the ship if interfered with.

Two U.S. Navy destroyers and a flight of Navy planes also were ordered on the trail of the fugitive ship. The Navy ordered the captains of the destroyers Wilson and Damato to find the Santa Maria, board it and escort it to the nearest U.S. port if they determined an act of piracy had been committed.

The Portuguese government said a band of about 70 armed men headed by ex-army Capt. Henrique Galvao—a longtime enemy of Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar—seized control of ship in the Caribbean before dawn Monday, killing at least one ship's officer and wounding an unknown number of crewmen.

The hijackers reportedly boarded the ship in the guise of passengers at La Guaira, Venezuela, and the Dutch island of Curacao, off the coast of Venezuela.

An Admiralty spokesman said the band might try to reach Brazil, Galvao has lived there for several months since his escape from hospital guards in Lisbon in 1959 while serving a 16-year sentence for treason.

The vessel had 1,568 tons of oil aboard, enough for 5,000 miles, and food for 20 days when the hijackers took over.

With the sun long up, the gray liner seemed to have vanished. Negative reports streamed in from the hunters.

More than 500 passengers — including Americans, Dutch, Venezuelans and Portuguese — and a crew of 370 were reported aboard the 20,806-ton liner. There was no word of any injury to the passengers.

The Rothesay radioed London she hoped to make contact with the Santa Maria around midnight.

The admiralty explained that the frigate had made neither visual nor radar contact with the liner but that her estimate of the Santa Maria's position course and speed "are presumably based on (Continued on Page 2)

Germany Plans Payment to U.S.

Kennedy Expected To Accept Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — The German government is preparing a $1.2-billion package plan to help the U.S. balance-of-payments problems, the New York Times said today.

The proposal would include paying off most of Bonn's postwar debt to the United States, purchase of armaments in the United States and assuming some of U.S. foreign aid burdens.

The offer will be conditional on Washington's agreement that the Bonn government accept $187 million as a U.S. settlement for German assets seized in the United States during World War II, the Times said in a dispatch from Bonn.

The Kennedy administration is expected to accept the condition and seek congressional approval for the settlement of an issue that has hampered relations for a long time, the newspaper said.

Basic provisions of the German offer listed by the Times are:

Prepayment of $600 million of the remaining $787 million of West Germany's postwar debts to the United States. The other $187 million would be written off in settlement of the seized German assets.

Prepayment of $150 million worth of German arms orders already placed in the United States.

A pledge to purchase and prepay $450 million worth of armaments in the United States this year, $200 million more than planned.

An agreement in principle for Bonn to assume some U.S. foreign aid projects and a part of the military aid programs to Turkey and Greece.

Ruptured Oil Line Blamed For Ship Fire

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Navy blames a ruptured oil line for the raging two-hour fire that struck the huge aircraft carrier Saratoga, the U.S. 6th Fleet's big punch, killing 7 crewmen and injuring 23.

There was no indication how long the 76,000-ton ship would be out of action or of what repairs would be necessary. News men were barred from boarding the carrier or talking to her crewmen.

Flames broke out in a machinery compartment at 2 a.m. Monday as the Saratoga steamed across the Ionian Sea toward Athens after patrol in the eastern Mediterranean. Her skipper, Capt. R. W. Mehl of Cincinnati, put the ship into Phaleron Bay near Athens hours later without aid from other ships.

It was the second major disaster aboard a Forrestal class carrier in five weeks. The Saratoga's sister ship, the Constellation, was gutted by a $48-million fire that started from a fuel oil leak Dec. 19 while she was under construction in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Fifty civilian workers lost their lives.

Fire control parties from the Saratoga's 3,800 officers and men fought the fire for two hours deep below decks and finally extinguished it without help from other 6th Fleet units. The dead, a chaplain, 3 other officers and 3 enlisted men, were asphyxiated by heavy smoke.

12 Civilian Plane Accidents Reported

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Twelve civilian airplane accidents occurred in Ohio during the last two months of 1960, Sgt. William Sternad of the Ohio Highway Patrol reported today.

The patrol is responsible for investigating all aircraft mishaps outside of federal reservations. Sternad said there were five accidents in November, in which three persons were injured. There also was one crash on a military reservation, that of a six-jet B47 bomber at Lockbourne Air Force base in which five crewmen were killed.

Seven accidents in December claimed three lives and injured three, Sternad said. Seven of the accidents involved landings, three landings, one taxiing and one was a crash into a house.

Local Chapter To Hear Talk By Dr. Rose

Dr. Robert Rose, a staff member at Children's Hospital, Columbus, will be guest speaker at tomorrow's meeting of the Pickaway County Chapter, New March of Dimes.

Dr. Rose will speak on "Works and Study Concerning Birth Defects". The meeting will be held at the First Methodist Church, starting at 7:30 p. m.

David Crawford, local campaign director, said the public is invited, especially the workers in this year's drive.

Dr. Rose, a graduate of Temple University and The Ohio State University School of Medicine, formerly lived in Springfield, O. and New York. He also attended summer school at Columbia University.

THE doctor's major school work was in neurology. He will present slides along with his address. His talk will be drawn from vast background work at Children's Hospital.

Grand Jury Gets Bad Check Case

Jerry Herron, 457 Watt St., appeared in Circleville Municipal Court today to face two bad check charges.

Herron was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $1,000 bond. He pleaded innocent.

Bond was set at $500 for forgery and $500 for uttering the forged instrument. The affidavit was filed by Bessie Taffe.

Pasternak Aide Jailed by Russians

LONDON (AP)—Soviet authorities have finally confirmed persistent reports that they have jailed Olga Ivinskaya, close friend and collaborator of the late Boris Pasternak.

Moscow radio said this weekend that Mrs. Ivinskaya and her daughter, Irina, 23, had been convicted of taking 800,000 rubles—$80,000—in royalties from Pasternak's disputed novel "Dr. Zhivago." The book was banned in the Soviet Union apparently because of its anti-Marxist overtones. It was a best seller abroad.

The Moscow broadcast did not mention the prison terms, but it had been reported in the West that Mrs. Ivinskaya got eight years and her daughter three.

High Court Told Why Poll Aide Is Rejected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown informed the Ohio Supreme Court Monday that he refused to appoint Jack Sullivan to the Mahoning County election board because he felt Sullivan was not qualified.

The board previously fired Sullivan, then clerk for the board, after widespread voting machine breakdowns in last year's primary election. The Democratic executive committee later recommended his appointment as a regular member. Sullivan has until Feb. 3 to file a reply before the Supreme court.

The additional booth to be installed by the General Telephone Co. was made necessary due to the size of the coin box in the telephone. The box that collects the tolls is not big enough to hold all the coins before time for collection. Therefore another booth will be installed in the near future.

The county's share of the monthly collection averages about $10, according to the county Auditor's office.

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. today quoted the leader of a band of armed men who seized the liner Santa Maria as saying the action was the first step aimed at overthrowing dictator Antonio De Oliveira Salazar of Portugal.

The network said the leader, Henrique Malta Galvao, reported in a message picked up by RCA radio marine that all the ship's passengers, many of them American, were safe.

The leader was quoted as saying he was willing to put in at the first port that would make assurances the ship would not be seized.

His reply was sent in response to one dispatched to the ship by Leonard Allen, NBC manager of foreign news.

The leader was quoted further as saying the action was taken "in the name of the international junta of liberals presided over by Gen. Humberto Delgado, president-elect of the new Portuguese Republic, fraudulently deprived of his rights by the Salazar government."

The message said that aboard ship all is "as normal as an ordinary cruise" and added:

"Passengers and crew asked that their families be informed they are well—and I add well and free."

Joseph Andrews, state March of Dimes official, also will attend the meeting.

The Pickaway County Chapter's campaign is in full operation here this month. Activities to date include placing coin containers at various places in the city and county and the sponsoring of a Polio Benefit dance recently at Ashville High School.

The next project coming up is the annual Mothers' March which will be conducted January 31, with Mrs. Betty Lou Koch serving as director. Plans also are being made for a tentative basketball tournament involving faculties of area schools.

All proceeds from these events are used by the local chapter in its fight against crippling diseases resulting from birth defects.

Removed Articles Are Recovered

A blanket and papers taken from a parked car here last night were recovered today, Circleville Police reported.

Officers said the car involved is owned by Robert Haynes, 137 Watt St. The articles were found early today in an alley near the scene.

Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolmen Gerald Goldsberry and William Brungs investigated.

The Alluring Assassins

Creeping Obesity Is Bane Of Inactive Americans

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of three articles dealing with heart troubles and their connection with rich diets and soft living.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

Watching TV, the average adult burns up about 144 calories per minute.

In two hours, he spends 150 calories, only 30 more than in two hours of sleeping.

A late-hour TV snack of food or drink can put it all back. And the 150 calories might represent just half of a luscious dessert.

Thus, the human calorie bank may acquire more "savings," resulting in creeping obesity, bane of millions of Americans. In most cases, obesity is blamed simply upon consuming more calories than are expended.

If calories were money, most Americans would be rich — they bank more than they spend.

Eating just 50 extra calories a day — 350 in a week — in 10 weeks equals 3,500 calories, the number in one pound of body weight. That little daily excess can put on five pounds in a year.

But spending 50 extra calories each day could melt off five pounds in a year, without cutting down on calories now consumed in a week or year. The little pluses or minuses add up significantly over time, Dr. Herbert Pollack of New York City points out.

A 15-minute brisk walk spends 75 calories.

And 75 calories equals one slice of apple pie; or 1½ ounces of a chilled martini; or ¾ ounce of cheese; one tablespoonful of heavy whipping cream; just one baking powder biscuit without butter; or six ounces of beer or a cola drink. It only makes a dent in the 400 calories of a chocolate sundae.

Spending more calories through regular, moderate exercise is being urged by many doctors and physiologists as a means of losing or maintaining weight, and as likely protection for your heart.

The assassin of inactivity, they believe, has as henchmen two common fallacies:

The myth we must all slack off and take it easy after 40.

The notion we can't lose weight through exercise.

Thirty years ago, doctors generally did advise taking it real easy after 40.

But now the medical pendulum has swung to the belief that regular daily exercise suited to personal conditions — and not just the weekend athletics — is good medicine.

Indolence tends to add weight, and speed up degenerative diseases, if not take some fun out of life. Easy modern life with cars, labor-saving gadgets and mechanization makes planned activity and exercise all the more important.

"Most of us don't wear out — we rust out," says Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp of New York, a proponent of continued activity and exercise throughout life.

Hard work never hurt a healthy heart, and probably protects it, many authorities hold, including

Dr. Paul Dudley White, a lean dynamo at 74, and a bicycling and hiking enthusiast who prescribed more exercise for his most famous patient, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Not all students of heart disease are convinced exercise and fitness cut the risk of coronary. But many point to evidence such as this:

1. Lower heart attack rates are found among men whose jobs require considerable physical labor, walking, or other movements, compared with those who sit at desks or have other non-action jobs.

2. Exercise can help control obesity, which boosts chances of heart attacks, high blood pressure, diabetes and perhaps other diseases.

3. There is suggestive evidence that exercise somehow helps reduce blood cholesterol levels.

4. Exercise can make a heart develop richer, stronger circulation. This could stand in good stead if a heart attack hits.

5. Exercise reduces tensions, making you less likely to explode at children, spouse or boss, and adds to endurance and ability to meet emergencies.

Regular exercise can burn up calories without necessarily whetting the appetite.

"Many persons think exercise cannot help in losing weight, because they hear you must walk 35 miles to lose one pound," says one physician.

"But who is saying you must do it in one day? Small daily increases in physical activity add up. If you gorge one day, you can wipe out the gain by increasing activity a bit more for a while."

Obesity can sneak up because as we age, we need fewer calories — each year about 100 less per day — to hold our weight.

"A young man eating 2,800 calories a day can gain 40 pounds in 40 years if he maintains that same intake and same activity," Dr. Pollack reports.

Most jobs today take less physical work than formerly.

Indeed, most men's jobs "are a cinch compared with housework," remarks Dr. Herman K. Hellerstein of Cleveland.

The average housewife can spend 6 calories per minute while actually doing housework, but it is lower the more she uses machines and labor-saving devices. The average desk worker spends only 1.6 per minute; the factory worker about 2, and coal miners 4 plus, he finds.

Activity and calorie spending can vary, of course, in the same classification of job. A top executive may push buttons to summon lesser executives who come running on command.

Calories are units of energy or heat produced by oxidation or burning of food in the body. Caloric expenditure varies with individuals depending partly on age, weight (The heavier you are, the more you spend doing any given task), height, activity, and sex.

Women have far fewer heart attacks than men, at least through ages 50 to 55. This is generally credited to some protective effect from female sex hormones.

But after menopause or change of life, women become more vulnerable, presumably because their sex hormone production declines.

Their greater activity rearing children and running a busy household may have some slight protective effect, too. Many women become less active when children leave home, but may continue to eat just as much, and so put on weight.

As for spending calories, look to some figures from Dr. Pollack:

Standing quietly, the average person burns about 9 more calories per hour than when sitting quietly. And the person who never stands still may burn 66 more calories more per hour than the relaxed stander.

Take a typist, 5-foot-3, weighing 120 pounds.

She uses 87.7 calories per hour working a standard mechanical typewriter, but only 72.7 with an electric typewriter — 15 less.

In six hours' work, she uses 90 calories less on the electrical machine — 450 a week, enough to equal one pound of weight in eight weeks.

An average man playing 18 holes of golf, walking four miles in three hours, spends 950 calories.

Gardening for three hours, he spends 560.

Dancing for an hour, then sitting and talking for two hours, costs him 400. If he just sits for three hours, he spends 275. And he can easily cancel that out by what he eat or drinks.

About 75 calories are spent in walking briskly for 15 minutes, swimming a fast crawl for five minutes, or working out on a rowing machine for 10.

Thinking costs nothing measurable in calories, unless you move your body meantime. Those bright ideas come cheap.

Dr. Pollack advises watching weight changes on the basis of a week or month rather than daily, for daily changes can be due mainly to water content of the body.

Little increases in spending, and small cuts in total food intake, can bring down weight as against "crash diets" for 10 days or three weeks which can be little fun, which may omit essential nutrients and which — once stopped — let weight soar again because basic habits were not changed.

An over-all deficit of 100 calories daily can mean 10 pounds lost in a year. And if the 100 are spent by added exercise, that leaves room for some goodies while keeping present weight.

Summing up, Dr. Stamler remarks: "We used to earn our bread by the sweat of our brow. "Now bread is no longer the staple in our diet, and we live with little sweat."

"But there's reasonable hope that if we change the risk rates — and diet and activity habits seem to be creating risks — we can change the picture. We may be on the threshold of an era of mass prevention of heart attacks."

Ex-TV Actor Is Happy Now At Behaving Like Maverick

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Portrait of a free man: James Garner. He is bright of eye, light of foot and quick of wit.

But then, Garner was all these things even under his subjugation to Warner Brothers. If he seems more so, it is because he is virtually a free agent and hence can collect a pot of Hollywood gold for his very own.

The handsome Oklahoman was at work—his first film job in a year—shooting a segment of "Angel" with Annie Farge and Marshall Thompson.

"What a breeze, not being in every scene," said the onetime "Maverick."

There are no more Mavericks in Garner's future. Recently he won his suit for freedom from Warner Brothers. The studio is appealing, but the actor estimates the chance of a reversal at 700-1.

Why did he choose a TV comedy in which to return? Garner rubbed together the thumb and first two fingers of one hand.

"But it's also a cute script," he said. "And I play myself in it. I'm also doing the Bob Hope and Dinah Shore shows as myself. That is all I will do in television. I won't do any more roles."

TV adherents might accuse him of treachery in turning his back on the medium that made him famous. Garner couldn't care less.

"The simple fact is that you last longer in movies," he said. "A top film name can always do a TV series. But a TV series star has no place to go to but to another TV series."

"Listen—I'm well aware of the fact that no TV star has been able to make the big time in movies. But I'm sure going to try. I think I might have more luck than the others because I'm versatile."

"I'll admit I didn't have much luck with features at Warners. That's because they were all blueahh. That's a word I invented to fit the kind of pictures I got—blueahh!"

Garner's film fortunes will be given a better chance, judging from the offers he's getting. He has been talking about doing "The Children's Hour."

"That's not bad company — William Wyler as producer-director and Audrey Hepburn and Shirley Maclaine as co-stars," he said. "So far, we've only been talking."

The actor has also been hearing sweet talk from studios that want him for a picture-a-year deal. But after his years at Warners, he's not falling for that dodge. Nor is he interested in the dozens of offers for TV series, despite the fortunes that are dangled before him. Most are for half ownership, and one agency even offered a percentage of its own earnings.

"Thanks, but no thanks," says the happy maverick (make that small m.)

NW Ohio Teamster Contract Approved

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Some 2,300 northwestern Ohio Teamsters met Sunday and unanimously approved terms of a new three-year contract. It provides hourly pay raises and fringe benefits totaling 42 cents.

Agreement on the contract, which covers 200,000 Teamsters in the Midwest, was reached Thursday in Chicago.

The pact, which covers deckmen and over-the-road and local drivers, provides pay raises of 10 cents an hour, effective Feb. 1; another 8 cents an hour, effective Feb. 1, 1962; and another 10 cents hourly on Feb. 1, 1963. It also provides for increased employer contributions to retirement and health and welfare funds.

Rocket Threat Just Bluster?

The Soviet has warned The Netherlands it is taking "a terrible risk" in permitting American atomic weapons on Dutch soil. The Russians said they don't like it, and that the Dutch will be in line for retaliation if war comes.

Somebody counted recently and found that Khrushchev has threatened 15 countries with the rocket-and-atom treatment. The researcher did not list the nations, so it is impossible to determine whether The Netherlands is the 16th or has been honored twice.

One begins to suspect that the Russians have a glut on these threatening notes and hand them out on alternate Tuesdays like rations, each country being served in turn.

These rocket threats are becoming more ritualistic than meaningful, made up of perfunctory half-hearted bluster. The Russians will go ahead passing out notes for years, while the real wrestling goes on out of sight.

But in a situation fraught with more ominous overtones than the world has ever known, every wriggle, side motion and convulsion of international communism must be duly noted and appraised. Nothing can be disregarded and nothing left to chance.

Courtin' Main

Before a man is married he tips his hat. After he is married, he flips his lid.

Let's Honor the Do-Nothing

NEW YORK (AP)—Well, today we've come up with a really good idea to better the lot of mankind and make life more livable.

Why not give out Lack of Achievement awards—and make the people who earn them wear them while in public?

Merit is recognized in almost all forms of endeavor.

In college the outstanding student can win a scholarship, and, if he plays football well, perhaps also get a salary on the side and a free car.

The armed forces have all sorts of awards for valor or special skills, and the civilian hero is rewarded with a Carnegie Medal.

There are Nobel and Pulitzer prizes for distinction in literature, science, journalism and the quest for peace.

In business the outstanding salesman gets bonuses, trips with their wives to the Bahamas, and other goodies. The enterprising executive is cut in on special stock deals.

This is all very fine, but it covers only half the picture. If we recognize merit, why shouldn't lack of merit also be recognized in a signal and unmistakable manner?

Why shouldn't people who distinguish themselves by poor service, chronic bad manners, or acts dangerous to themselves and others be compelled to wear on their coat or dress fronts a badge of some kind that warns others of what they are?

Then you could tell at a glance whom to beware of.

Here are a few suggested awards to show what I mean:

To the bus driver who always hands back 20 nickels when you give him a dollar bill—one black star. To one who slams the door shut in a passenger's face—two black stars. To one who slams the door on the passenger's nose—three black stars.

To waiters who wait but will not serve—the Order of the Crossed Spoons Upside Down. To waiters who sadiistically enjoy bringing you the wrong order—the Order of the Empty Tip Tray. To grumpy women who never thank you when you help them through a revolving door, or get up to give them your seat on a bus—the Order of the Grim-Faced Potato.

The barbers and cab drivers who insist on telling you the story of their life when all you want is a hair cut or a ride—the Order of the Yawning Mouth, 3rd Class.

To the bore at a cocktail party who brags about having been on the wagon five years—the Order of the Yawning Mouth, 1st class.

To drug store or restaurant cashiers who always try to short-change you—the Order of the Light Finger.

These are just a few of the potential awards for lack of merit which would enable us to distinguish the sheep from the goats in our civilization. The list is endless.

But don't you think the idea, if carried out, would make the world a safer, saner, pleasanter place for us all?

Zionism Differs from Judaism

Jews in most Western countries, particularly the United States, have been disturbed by a speech delivered by David Ben-Gurion, Prime Minister of Israel.

Ben-Gurion is apparently desperate that the Jewish immigration to Israel has become reduced and that leadership Jews from Western countries do not come at all. Israel must now develop its population by the simple process of birth rather than by large scale immigration upon which it has depended.

Israel as a nation responds to a permanent hope of the Jewish people, often expressed in the Bible. It is the basis of the most interesting holy days in the Jewish religion, Passover and the Feast of the Maccabees.

The modern Zionist movement, founded by Dr. Theodor Herzl, a Viennese journalist, at the Basle Congress in 1897, sought to establish a Jewish homeland in Palestine. This was accomplished by the Balfour Declaration in 1917 and by a decision of the United Nations in 1947. Israel thus was established as a nation for those Jews who chose to live there.

Nevertheless, a great many Jews—in fact, most Jews—particularly in the Western countries, while they contributed heavily to the development of Israel, chose not to live there. Comparatively few American Jews left this country for Israel.

There is the old historic argument as to what a Jew is. Ben-Gurion has, for all practical purposes, tried to establish it that a Jew is one who migrates to Israel, which is historically an untenable position.

The Jews are a religion, the "People of the Book," who gave to mankind both the Old and New Testaments and who propounded and propagated the idea of one God, a total Being, who revealed the moral law to Moses.

Jews differ from Christians in the essential fact that the Jews believe that the Messiah, the Savior of mankind, is yet to come, while Christians believe that He has already appeared in flesh upon this Earth in the person of Jesus.

As a religion, Judaism once possessed a central temple, built by Solomon in Jerusalem, which was conducted by an order of priests. In due course, the temple was defiled and finally destroyed. Since then Jews have had no priests but have depended for their religious sanctions upon rabbis who are teachers and preachers.

Judaism, having no central organization, broke up into many sects at different times. It would serve no purpose to go into all of them now; suffice it that in the United States, from rigid to free, are the Hassidim, the Orthodox, the Conservative and the Reform.

The Zionist movement, prior to the establishment of Israel, gained its strength from the Orthodox and the Conservative. After Israel was established, many Reform Jews decided that Israel would be good for the refugees from Hitler and supported the effort financially.

The so-called ethnological Jew is, from a Jewish standpoint, a monster. This person rejects Judaism as a religion because he abhors religion, but he regards himself as a Jew by race which is historical and ethnological nonsense.

The Jews are not a race, having assimilated with many peoples. Anthropological measurements of thousands of Jews failed to produce a racial pattern. The Yemenites, the Beniaminites, the Bene Israel of India, the Falashas are racially not akin to the Jews of Lithuania or of Poland or Sweden.

In the United States many younger Jews who have abandoned their religion regard themselves as ethnological Jews and express an affinity for Israel because of racial heritage. The Bible and Talmud and all Jewish tradition, however, are antagonistic to them because from the beginning the Jews are not defined as a separate race but are the offspring of Abraham who was a Chaldean, coming from the city of Ur. From earliest times, Jews intermarried with their neighbors.

Zionism adds to this intensely complicated picture the third element, nationalism, which it becomes increasingly difficult for Western Jews to accept because dual nationality is offensive to most decent folks who belong to the country of their birth or adoption with single loyalty and unswerving fidelity.

Ben-Gurion hurt the cause of Israel by raising the issue that good Jews are those who migrate to Israel. The Jewish thought on the subject is that good Jews are those who believe in God and live by the moral law which God gave to Moses and the Prophets for all men to have.

Public Notice A Vital Right

By JAMES E. POLLARD
(Copyright)

An 8-line newspaper advertisement gave notice of the annual meeting of the local unit of the American Cancer Society. The me and place were given. The notice carried the signature of the resident and it was published only once.

Probably nothing earth-shaking came up at the meeting. In all likelihood only routine business "as in prospect," with a review of the society's activities and accomplishments during the year, reports of officers and of committees, and election of officers. But notice was given to members, as well as to the public, of the impending meeting 16 days hence.

This situation has its parallel in meetings or other actions by similar public interest groups. It has a particular parallel in the business field where the public notice is used for such matters as the annual meeting of the company or corporation. It is often used also for the announcement of the declaration of dividends, quarterly or otherwise.

Here again the public notice, or legal advertising, serves a particular purpose or meets a particular need. It is both a matter of giving information to people concerned and of going on record. The bona fide newspaper of general circulation is a preferred medium for this purpose. In so doing, it renders another service to the public, but in this case as provided by law, and usually at relatively low cost. In short, it is both economical and effective.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SOME TIME AGO, recalls Critic George Oppenheimer, "a ham actor decided to revive 'The Jest' with himself in the role created by John Barrymore. Unfortunately, the ham weighed about 210 pounds on the hoof, and when he donned the tights called for by the part, he was quite a sight, fore and aft."

"When he strode upon the stage for the opening performance, and struck a typical Barrymore pose, there was a moment of deep silence in the theatre. That was interrupted by an irreverent soul in the balcony. 'My God!' he shouted, 'It's Ethel!'"

A letter calling attention to an overdue bill must be good to be read. It must be more than good to spur delinquents into reaching for their check books. Here's one that produced really spectacular results for an upstate dairy products company:

"Dear Sir: It has been said that a man who squeezes a dollar, never squeezes his wife. In looking over your account, it occurs to us that your wife cannot be getting the attention she deserves. Respy, etc., etc."

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As a conscientious student of television plots, it is my conviction that almost anybody can be a TV writer. All you need is the Lowry kit of Key Lines, a practical attitude about plagiarism and a type-writer.

The method which I have developed is simple and really fool-proof. All the ambitious television script writer need do is build a 30-minute plot around one of the following lines, one of which appears in most successful programs:

"You've got to help me, Mr. Private Eye. I'm not asking for myself, but for my son. His mother left me when she found out what I was, and she brought up the boy herself. The boy thinks his father died a hero's death in the war. But now the gang I double-crossed is out to strike at me through him..."

"What's a pretty little girl like you doing in a joint like this?..."

"It's all over for me, sheriff. You'll find the gold hidden under the loose floor boards in the assayer's office..."

"But, Serafina dear, I didn't mean to buy the cigar store Indian. I was just watching this auction and scratched my ear. Then the man said I made the highest bid..."

"What it means, Harry, is that I want a divorce. We haven't had a real marriage for 15 years. Your career may have been enough for you, but money and power isn't enough for me..."

"Hand me an extra tank! Frank's air is exhausted and he's trapped 40 feet down in an underwater cave, and there are sharks around..."

"Now, Mr. John Smith. We know you are agent X-14, and muscles here knows just how to handle your kind. Make it easy for yourself..."

"My dear inspector, symptoms like this could indicate a heart attack. But similar symptoms can be induced by a tiny amount of a lethal poison used by the native warriors of deepest Africa. No, inspector, I say that Sir Archibald's unfortunate demise is—murder!"

"1906. 1906. Code 3. Blue convertible, license plate 7C674, proceeding west on 80th St. Put out an APB for white man, 6-4, 196 lbs., scar on face, blue suit. Caution, he is armed. Over..."

"Sure, I may be the fastest gun in the West, but, pardner, I learned a long time ago that

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—More motorists caught in traffic jams are telling their wives by radio they'll be late for dinner. More business and professional men, farmers and ranchers, truck and taxi drivers are keeping in touch with home base while on the go.

It's all due to a two-year-old industry—short-range, two-way radio, operating like a rural telephone party line. It uses 22 channels called the Citizen's Band.

Applications for licenses are zooming, equipment sales doubling, uses by business firms multiplying.

We don't doubt that skin specialists' assertion, however, it sure does leave a lot to the imagination!

A baldy's hair, asserts the Maryland medic, can be seen through a powerful lens. But who wants to wear a microscope for a hat?

Meanwhile, Dr. Werner von Braun, the missile expert, says space design is changing faster than rockets travel. In other words, as soon as a new type space vehicle leaves the launching pad it's an outmoded jalopy!

Some people have a suspicious nature. Others, says Milt, the sterling printer, have never been gyped.

This old world is full of disappointments. For instance—too often, a budding genius turns out to be only a blooming pest!

killin' never solved nothin'... There are a few other key lines, but these are enough for a start.

Commission, which opened up the channels late in 1958, has issued 178,000 licenses in the last two years and now is getting 10,000 new applications a month.

To hold down the chatter, FCC rulings now limit each communication to five minutes and maximum input power to around five watts, which gives a practical range of 5 to 10 miles, and a top of 20 miles under ideal circumstances.

It is estimated about 5,000 Citizen's Band receivers may be operating at one time. Because of such jams, some have asked the FCC to assign one channel for distress or emergency calls.

The Citizen's Band is the old 11-meter band once used by amateur radio operators before the FCC subdivided it into 23 channels.

Boating enthusiasts have taken to the new equipment, as well as to the older and more powerful radio-telephone units.

Older marine radio telephones can have a 30-watt input carrying 45 miles over salt water and can be used to call the Coast Guard or summon aid from other vessels on one channel that is monitored 24 hours a day.

The boatmen also can use them to call the phone company and be connected with any shore-side phone.

The smaller, cheaper and more limited range Citizen's Band radios now are used in many types of business.

Contact with outside operations are maintained by physicians, TV service men, auto repair shops, plumbers, laundry trucks, contractors, insurance adjusters, and commercial photographers.

Locomotives can start up warning crossing lights by using such radios.

Newest comer to the field is a hand-size transistorized unit worn or carried by a person. This has a still shorter range than those used in cars or boats.

Prices of Citizen's Band equipment depend on size, antennas, wiring and other accessories. Fully equipped ones average around $200, while a portable receiver has just been put on the market for $49.50.

High Court OKs Film Censorships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has upheld censorship of motion pictures before their public showing.

Justice Clark delivered the court's 5-4 decision.

The tribunal acted on an appeal by Times Film Corp., distributors of a movie called "Don Juan." The firm refused to submit the picture to Chicago's censors and the city then refused a permit for its exhibition.

In today's high court decision, Chief Justice Warren and Justice Douglas wrote dissenting opinions.

Also dissenting were Justices Black and Brennan.

The majority was made up of Clark and Justices Frankfurter, Harlan, Whitaker and Stewart.

In the controlling opinion, Clark said the challenge to the validity of the Chicago ordinance presented the tribunal with the "broad justiciable issue, whether the ambit (bounds) of constitutional protection includes complete and absolute freedom to exhibit, at least once, any and every kind of motion picture."

Clark said the court was deciding that question alone.

Chief Justice Warren's dissenting opinion said the court majority "indiscriminately casts the net of control too broadly."

Warren said the court's decision gives assent "to unlimited censorship of moving pictures through a licensing system, despite the fact that Chicago has chosen this most objectionable course to attain its goals without any apparent attempt to devise other means so as not to intrude on the constitutionally protected liberties of speech and press."

In argument of the case last October, lawyers for Times Film contended that any prior censorship of movies violates the constitutional rights of free speech and free press.

But counsel for Chicago said prior censorship is necessary to protect the public from obscenity and other objectionable matter.

The answer to that problem, the Times Film lawyers argued, is not prior censorship but prosecution for public showing of improper pictures.

The firm said it had no objection to payment of city permit fees, and had submitted to Chicago its required fee. But the city refused a permit without first seeing "Don Juan."

Times Film asked the U.S. District Court in Chicago to order the city to issue a permit. The court dismissed the request, stating that if the firm had submitted the film for prior examination the city censors might have approved it and there would be no need for legal action.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago agreed with the District Court, commenting that, "if we grant the relief prayed (an injunction against the city), we will be sanctioning the public exhibition of we know not what."

Appealing to the Supreme Court, Times Film said the question of whether "Don Juan" is or is not obscene was not an issue. The firm's lawyers insisted it was immaterial. They argued that a movie has the same status as a book or newspaper, in that censorship before publication is unconstitutional.

Embezzlement Cases To Be Probed Anew

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The embezzlement cases against two former officials in the Ohio Division of Building and Loans will be resubmitted to the grand jury. The original indictments were found faulty Monday because of a typist's error in omitting an important section of the state statute, according to Franklin County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison.

Accused of embezzling thousands of dollars from the state over a period of years are Mrs. Mary Nagle, 62, former deputy superintendent in the division, and Nicholas J. Dziamba, 50, the division's former chief examiner and acting deputy superintendent. Both live in Columbus.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy shows a lot of self-confidence in deciding to hold his news conference on live television. Still, it's natural for him to do this. His predecessors in the White House have been leading up to it step by step. He took the next one.

These Kennedy news conferences, appearing in living rooms all over America while they're happening, close a gap.

They close the separation between citizens and their government by giving them a more immediate sense of understanding and participation.

Watching a Kennedy news conference on TV will be the same as being at it except for the inability to ask questions.

People will not only be able to observe their President but pass private judgment on him, his wisdom and his policies.

Kennedy, of course, could be creating a trap for himself. If he makes a slip with the whole country watching, it's made.

He could even create a disaster—remote as that seems—by a slip in foreign affairs.

Yet, strangely, over the years American presidents have made extraordinarily few blunders at news conferences.

Anyone who has been in Washington any time knows this. Kennedy has been here steadily since 1947, serving in Congress.

Besides, he has demonstrated he is extremely well able to take care of himself in a fast give and take as in his TV debates with former Vice President Richard Nixon.

By going on live TV, Kennedy has thrown aside one safeguard against mistakes which other presidents used.

They either insisted upon being quoted indirectly or having their aides check over the question-answer transcript before allowing direct quotes.

There was no televising of President Truman's meetings with the press. President Eisenhower permitted TV cameras to record his conferences.

But before he could be quoted directly or shown on the nation's TV screens, his press secretary, James Hagerty, had the right to change or ban anything he decided should not be reported or shown.

Still, White House newsmen who covered Eisenhower from the beginning do not recall that Hagerty ever in eight years cut anything of importance out of the word-by-word transcript.

If something Eisenhower said might be open to misinterpretation, Hagerty at times put out an explanatory note, along with the transcript, to set the record straight.

Nor did he cut anything of importance out of the TV films which were shown later.

Nevertheless, he could have done so if he wished. There will be no one to backstop Kennedy.

But Kennedy is better prepared to answer questions about government than Eisenhower was, starting out.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Raymond P. McDonald, 27, and Jerry W. Taylor, 21, both of Detroit, have been bound over to the Wood County grand jury without bond on first-degree murder charges. They are accused of stabbing to death Elmer H. Walker, 30, of Taylor Center, Mich., a Detroit suburb, after he drove them in his taxicab into Ohio early Sunday on a drinking spree.

At their arraignment Monday in nearby Fostoria, the two men told Acting Municipal Judge Walter M. Witherspoon they had signed statements admitting the slaying northwest of Fostoria.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Four women who were in the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown when it was held up last July 11 appeared in court Monday and identified Thomas E. Georgalas as one of the men involved in the $18,378 holdup.

Georgalas, 26, of Warren, is on trial in the courtroom of U.S. District Judge James C. Connell.

Frank D. Anzur, 34, of Youngstown has pleaded guilty to a federal indictment charging him with the robbery.

Asst. U.S. Atty. William J. O'Neill told the jury of six men and six women he will call Anzur as a witness in Georgalas' trial.

ington any time knows this. Kennedy has been here steadily since 1947, serving in Congress.

Besides, he has demonstrated he is extremely well able to take care of himself in a fast give and take as in his TV debates with former Vice President Richard Nixon.

By going on live TV, Kennedy has thrown aside one safeguard against mistakes which other presidents used.

They either insisted upon being quoted indirectly or having their aides check over the question-answer transcript before allowing direct quotes.

There was no televising of President Truman's meetings with the press. President Eisenhower permitted TV cameras to record his conferences.

But before he could be quoted directly or shown on the nation's TV screens, his press secretary, James Hagerty, had the right to change or ban anything he decided should not be reported or shown.

Still, White House newsmen who covered Eisenhower from the beginning do not recall that Hagerty ever in eight years cut anything of importance out of the word-by-word transcript.

If something Eisenhower said might be open to misinterpretation, Hagerty at times put out an explanatory note, along with the transcript, to set the record straight.

Nor did he cut anything of importance out of the TV films which were shown later.

Nevertheless, he could have done so if he wished. There will be no one to backstop Kennedy.

But Kennedy is better prepared to answer questions about government than Eisenhower was, starting out.

Pair To Await Grand Jury Action

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Raymond P. McDonald, 27, and Jerry W. Taylor, 21, both of Detroit, have been bound over to the Wood County grand jury without bond on first-degree murder charges. They are accused of stabbing to death Elmer H. Walker, 30, of Taylor Center, Mich., a Detroit suburb, after he drove them in his taxicab into Ohio early Sunday on a drinking spree.

At their arraignment Monday in nearby Fostoria, the two men told Acting Municipal Judge Walter M. Witherspoon they had signed statements admitting the slaying northwest of Fostoria.

VICTORY CUPS — Mrs. Orville L. Freeman was a good politician at Minnesota office Klatches.

Jane Freeman Is Energetic And a Rugged Campaigner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Washington isn't Jane Freeman's cup of tea, it'll certainly be her cup of coffee.
Jane — Mrs. Orville L. Freeman — helped get her husband elected to three terms as governor of Minnesota by sipping coffee, attending six coffee parties a day plus a luncheon in the heavy campaigning period.
She's never lived on a farm but says she's learned plenty from farm wives about the problems her husband will face in his new post as Secretary of Agriculture.
Mrs. Freeman, 39, is a trim 5-4. She's dark-haired, with a ready smile and a vivacious manner.

Born in Winston-Salem, N.C., the former Jane C. Shields came to Minnesota in time to finish high school and attend the University of Minnesota where she earned a degree in political science.
She met Freeman at the University when both were elected to student government posts.
She was attracted to him by his great energy and idealism. At approximately the same time, she says, Freeman was attending law school, working on the school's law review and playing football, as well as paying his own way through school by working at odd hours.

Paris Spring Fashion Show Features 'Windblown Look'

PARIS (AP)—The Paris spring fashion season got off to a devil-may-care start this morning with two collections that tried to outdo each other in breeziness.

The windblown look just covered the knees and usually left the waistline only semifitted.

Jacques Esterel's saucy show was full of drapes and fresh, frank colors, while Jacques Griffe got a similar effect with loose middy blouses, pleated skirts, and wrist-length jackets.

Esterel owes his sudden emergence as a crowd-drawing dressmaker largely to Brigitte Bardot, who popularized his clothes. But he made a good try for sophistication, saving the curvy models for his "misses" dresses. Young girls, he says, want "everything to be seen at once."

Two-tone outfits are a great thing in the Esterel show. White jackets over printed or black skirts, matching jackets and blouses with contrasting skirts, and skirts with a deep hem band of contrasting material are some of the changes he brings.

He revives such old favorites as jabots, in a nonfrilly version of two big loops of silk at the neckline; corselet waistlines, halo hats, apron panels, weskit or vest tops, and V-backed dresses with a back-to-front look.

Esterel's waistlines are high, low, hardly there at all or fitted like a glove. Jackets run the same gamut from short bolero length to midhip to bottom of the thigh. Sleeves, mostly three-quarter or elbow-length tubes, are sometimes kimono-cut with the bodice and sometimes actually puffed. The sleeveless sheaths survive, but barely.

Esterel achieves a loose, free-and-easy general effect without actually being baggy anywhere. His ~~new~~ glove-fitted waistlines have puffy bosoms, while his low waists have puffy backs.

Spring fashions will be a breeze according to Griffe. He opened his collection with a fluid draped line he calls "puff of wind."

His first models were breezy enough in tight ankle-length pants, patent leather flats and flat caps. But the remainder was an ultra-conservative group of gently fitted wrist-length suits whose narrow revers met at the waist or just below.

Waists were passed by for a line just above the hips, marked by a belt or an insert of ruched self material. Loose middy blouses and pleated skirts were topped by simple cardigans or straight collarless coats with a two-inch binding of self material. When not perfectly straight, coats were also belted just above the hip.

Dresses were loose sheaths with emphasis on a side drape, starting at either shoulder or hip. Hats dipped low on one side to balance the drape.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

What Did You Expect?

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I saw two people together who had absolutely no business being together. The man is the husband of a very good friend of mine. The woman is the wife of a respected professional man. He was helping her into his car and they were laughing and so wrapped up in each other's company they didn't know anyone else was on the street. This was about noontime.

It worked on my mind so much I decided to call up my friend and tell her about her husband. She told me if she wanted a report on her husband's activities she would hire a private eye. I felt as though I'd been struck across the face. Was she right talking to me like that when I was only trying to be a friend? If I had been in her place, I would have appreciated the tip.

SPEECHLESS
DEAR SPEECHLESS: You should find yourself "speechless" more often. How do you KNOW that the man and woman had

"absolutely no business being together"? A woman once wrote to me with a similar story. I turned out her husband had asked the other woman to help him select a very special anniversary gift for her. Forget the tip and button your lip.

DEAR ABBY: I am approaching my second marriage and my ex-husband and I are on very friendly terms. He has asked for the favor of giving me away in marriage. He said nothing would give him more pleasure. I have no close relatives. Would this be proper?

SECOND TIME AROUND
DEAR SECOND: If I were you, I'd hunt up a distant relative.

DEAR ABBY: How many showers do you think a 15-year-old boy needs to take in one day? I am a 14-year-old girl who goes steadily (not steady) with a boy named Mark. He never calls me so I call him. Yesterday I called him at 4:00 p. m. and his mother told me he was in the shower.

I called again at 5:00 p. m. and she said Mark was still in the shower. I called him again about 8:00 p. m. and honest to gosh, Abby, she said Mark was in the shower again. Why do you think Mark is in the shower so much?

GETTING NO PLACE
DEAR GETTING: Maybe Mark is trying to wash you out of his hair. Wise up, Honey. Don't call boys.

Palmer Aims At Sweep of Golf Titles

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Palmer said today he intends to make another try at sweeping golf's big four championships—the Masters, U.S. and British Opens, and the PGA — this year.

If he fails again in this ambitious bid but comes as close to the unprecedented grand slam as he did last year, the handsome, 31-year-old king of the links probably could make sports history anyway.

For his outstanding feats in winning the Masters and the U.S. Open and topping the money winners with a record $80,378, among other notable achievements, Palmer emerged as the decisive winner of the S. Rae Hickok Pro Athlete of the Year Award.

The Latrobe, Pa., golfer beat a formidable field, including heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, quarterback Norm Van Brocklin of the NFL and Pittsburgh World Series heroes Bill Mazeroski and Vernon Law.

Palmer received 73 first place votes from the nationwide panel of 145 sports writers and sportscasters and 302 points on a 3-2-1 basis. Patterson got 35 first place and 196 points. Van Brocklin's score was 19 first places and 176 points to 41 and 53 for Mazeroski and 5 and 35 for Law.

Junior High Downs Ewing

Circleville's Junior High basketball team swarmed over Thomas Ewing of Lancaster here yesterday, 27-10.

Circleville marched to a 10-2 halftime lead which saw the visitors go scoreless in the first quarter.

Doug Roth sparked the Little Tigers with nine points and John Maxwell had six. Chapman was high for Ewing with five.

Also scoring for Circleville were Chet Iery and Howard Dade with four each and Seward and Peterson two each.

The local 7th and 8th graders are scheduled again Thursday when Wilmington comes here.

Ashville, Saltcreek Meet for Crown

Ashville and Saltcreek will meet for the Pickaway County Junior High basketball championship Saturday at Jackson Twp. following wins last night in semifinals play.

Saltcreek earned a title berth with a 45-32 decision over Walnut and Ashville came through with a 37-26 victory over Washington Twp.

Saltcreek and Ashville will meet at 8:30 p. m. for the coveted crown. Walnut and Washington will battle for consolation honors at 7 p. m. Both games will be played at Jackson.

Lutz was a devastating factor for Saltcreek last night as he came through with 20 points as a follow-up to 25 points scored Monday night. Teammate Jordan was a cog with 10 markers.

WALNUT's top man was Brady with 13 points. Crumley tallied nine.

Saltcreek edged ahead, 15-6, at the end of the first quarter, remained in command at intermission, 23-14, then opened a larger gap in the final two periods.

Ashville rolled behind 12 points by Reese and nine each by Shreve and Roof. Shaw was Washington's top scorer with nine, followed by Hoffman's six.

The first quarter ended in a deadlock, 8-8, but Ashville opened up for a 17-31 lead at the half. The young Broncos went on for a 29-20 margin as the third frame ended and held on in the final period.

The foul shooting contest ended last night, with top honors going to Rodney Stauffer of Washington Twp. The young sharpshooter smacked 19 of 25 to lead all contestants.

Stauffer will be presented a trophy following championship action Saturday night. Winner of the CHS football coach, more than 100 assorted articles were received by the players who covered the northern section with trucks.

Additional pickups will be conducted again Saturday in the area south of Main St. This time the CHS wrestling team will provide the working power.

THE Boosters' White Elephant Sale will be conducted February 4 at the Ohio National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St., starting at 10 a. m. The public is invited.

All proceeds for the auction will be devoted to promoting better athletics at Circleville High School. The sale is a new-type financial project for the Boosters.

All local residents are requested to donate articles which otherwise would be discarded. Items such as furniture, appliances, clothing and the like are needed.

Persons wishing to donate merchandise and who have not been contacted may phone GR 4-2437.

Anderson, Zahard Post High Scores

Norm Anderson's 222 single game and Walt Zahard's 573 series represented top scores in Prairie Dogs bowling last night at Prairie Lanes.

Circleville Lumber had the best team mark for a single game with 980 pins.

Ankrom's Lumber topped teams for the set by spilling 2,729 pins.

3 Men, 2 Women Pass 500 Scores

Three men and two women bowlers passed 500 series scores in Sunday Mixed Doubles at Circle D.

Jack Leasure led the way with 560, Dick Buskirk had 550 and Jack Melvin 532. For the ladies it was Penny Dietrich with 518 and Wanda Leasure with 506.

High single games saw Buskirk and Melvin tally a 227 each and Mrs. Leasure a 201. Pete Noble turned in a 4-7-9-10 split.

Northwestern Trips Purdue, Slows Its Ace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Mid-semester examinations limited the major college basketball schedule Monday night to a pair of Big Ten games in which lowly Northwestern knocked off Purdue and Minnesota clobbered Michigan State.

Putting a halt on Olympian Terry Dischinger, Northwestern beat Purdue, 64-62, and knocked the Boilermakers out of a tie with top-ranked Ohio State for the Big Ten lead. Minnesota added to Michigan State's woes with an 89-70 victory.

In both games, the home team was victorious.

Dischinger, still operating with an injured middle finger on his right hand, was stymied by Northwestern's defensive tactics. The Wildcats played a four-man zone with the fifth man following Purdue's All-America candidate.

The Big Ten's leading scorer was limited to four shots and a total of six points in the first half and finished with 17 points for the night, far below his 29-point conference average.

Minnesota, a team which figures to be much better than its over-all 4-10 record, upped its Big Ten mark to 2-3 by crushing Michigan State. The Gophers led 47-31 at the half and never were threatened.

Vikings Pose NFL Problem

League Chiefs Debate How To Stock Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League meeting got under way today with the owners split into two factions on ways and means of stocking the new Minnesota Vikings.

One group wants to limit the number of players to be put up for grabs by Coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Vikings.

This faction points out that the Vikings already have been permitted to participate in the draft (they picked up 20 players), and have signed a pretty good quarterback in George Shaw.

The other group wants to give the Vikings the full list of 11 players to choose from—the same number the Dallas Cowboys picked from last season when they began operations. A spokesman for this group pointed out that even with the wide choice, the Cowboys didn't win a game.

"I think the Vikings should get the same break as the Cowboys," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle before entering the meeting. At any rate, the Vikings will wind up with 36 players, three from each team except the Cowboys.

It also seemed certain that the league will vote to expand its schedule from 12 to 14 games. All concerned agreed that it won't be easy, but that it is a necessity. Part of the solution will be to cut the exhibition season to five games and open on the weekend of Sept. 15.

"We'll have the problem of baseball at one end and weather at the other," Rozelle said.

Five of the Eastern and four of the Western Conference teams play their games in baseball parks. That makes for a scheduling problem. Furthermore, only Los Angeles, San Francisco and Dallas are reasonably certain of good weather late in the season.

Jack McCreary, Louisiana State basketball coach, compiled a 25-10 record for his two seasons as a coach at DePauw University.

Brown Cracks 666 Pin Series

Mike Brown, bowling with Jack's Bar, ripped a torrid 666 series in match play Sunday at Prairie Lanes.

The individual performance helped Jack's win three games over Belk's of New Holland. Jack's finished with 2,789 pins and Belk's with 2,585.

Ralph Ankrom of the Bar team collected 581 pins for the set, including a 221 game. Teammate Walt Zahard ended with a 521.

Gorman's 550 and Cottrill's 529 were high for Belk's.

Shadley Performs For Purdue Team

Bob Shadley, former Circleville High School basketball ace, now is a performer for the Purdue University freshman team.

Shadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shadley, 324 E. Mound St., currently is home from Purdue for a vacation between semesters.

Shad, making a strong bid for the freshman team and future varsity roles, stands 6-6 and weighs 170. He measured about 6-3 in his playing days at CHS.

The CHS product is studying chemical engineering at the Boilermaker school. He is one of 21 cagers out for the freshman squad.

The Cleveland Browns led National Football League teams in scoring last season. They made 362 points in 12 league games.

Dayton, Hamilton, 1, 2 in Ratings, Poised for Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This is the week of decision for Dayton Roosevelt's defending Class AA high school basketball champions and Hamilton Garfield's red-hot challengers.

The Teddies are tops by 200 poll points, on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, in this week's Associated Press ratings—and Garfield is second.

They meet Friday in Hamilton—and someone must surrender.

Roosevelt carries a 10-0 record into the climactic fray. Garfield, which has traded defeats and victories with third-place Portsmouth is 10-1. Portsmouth's Trojans, who whipped Springfield's twice-champion Wildcats 63-49 and then ended Chillicothe's 28-game home winning streak 68-60 last week, are a single poll point behind Garfield.

Roosevelt picked up 18 of the 45 first-place votes cast in the poll, and 382 poll points to Hamilton Garfield's 182.

In Class A, the race for the top spot is a snug one. Salem Local's defending kings are on top by a single poll point—equal to one tenth place vote—over Aversville's 1957 state title winners.

Unbeaten Athens is the lone newcomer to the Class AA Top Ten, grabbing the last rung from St. Marys. Three new ones, Stanton Local, ex-champion Northwestern of Wayne County, and Lima Perry moved into the Class A elite list as Fremont St. Joe, Belle Center and Arcanum fell by the wayside.

Indian Lake, boasting only six points in the poll, had quite a week. The classy squad dropped a four-pointed to Salem Local then knocked off Belle Center from the unbeaten class 73-56. The Lakers held Belle Center's Dick Ricketts to 26 points, his low for the season. He went into the fray with an average of 35. He came back for 44 against Jackson Center.

Clarksburg of Ross County has one of the finest brother acts in the state in Bill and Jerry McDonald. Both are averaging over 20, and in Friday's 63-60 win over Kingston they counted all 13 last-quarter points for Clarksburg. Bill scored 23, Jerry 26 for the night.

Mike Haley, Portsmouth's 6-5 senior, hit his season's high of 31 against Springfield, for a 21.6 average. Marlinton and Fairless of Stark County went three overtime periods before Wayne Leply's two free throws won it 50-48 for Marlinton.

Ken Cunningham, East Liverpool's all-state quarterback, throws the basketball well, too. He leads the area with a 21.6 average.

Charley McAfee, 1954 Class B

Havlicek Ready For Purdue Joust

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John (Hondo) Havlicek, defensive stand-out for Ohio State's basketball team and the man who'll be guarding Purdue's Terry Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, in Saturday's game, says a doctor's check-up showed there is nothing wrong with his eyes.

Havlicek collided with teammate Larry Siegfried in the Buckeyes' win over Minnesota Saturday. "After that," said Hondo, "I had trouble seeing the scoreboard—my left eye was like looking through cracked glass. But I cleared up a couple of hours after the game."

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating? Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a tremendous sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Fur, Fin and Campfire GROUSE. WHEN THEY TAKE OFF WITH A WARNING SIGN YOU WANT THEM. HAVE A TENDENCY TO WING TOWARD THE RIGHT. THEY EAT MORE FOR THEIR SIZE THAN ANY OTHER CHICKEN-LIKE BIRD. MORE ABOUT GAME BIRDS. THE PHEASANT, A HARDY BIRD, IS ABOUT ONE-THIRD TALL. SO REMEMBER TO SHOOT AT HIS HEAD. THE CANVASBACK IS THE FASTEST OF THE DUCKS, THE MALLARD BEING THE SLOWEST.

caught... with your profits down? In these times of cost-price problems, do this: Economize — fertilize. Using a little fertilizer is like flying on one wing. In other words, "Don't be a miser with fertilizer." Experience has proven that one of the easiest and most economical ways to increase yields is by fertilizing properly with Smith-Douglass PELLEFORM. Clean, uniform pellets distribute easily. Highly available PELLEFORM plant food will be at the right spot for your corn — and be there when it's needed. Order Smith-Douglass PELLEFORM today. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Jean (Tomlinson) Eldridge who passed away one year ago today, January 24, 1960, at the age of 24.
I did not know the pain you had
Or hear your final sigh
I only know you passed away
Without a last goodbye
God gave us strength to face it
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sister, Brothers, and daughter, Karen Sue.

1. Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my neighbors, friends and relatives who sent me get-well cards, Christmas cards, flowers and birthday cards. They all were deeply appreciated.
Mrs. Hattie Ann Pickens
123 Pinckney St.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks for the many nice cards and beautiful flowers and the kindness of the nurses and thoughtfulness of every member on the staff at Berger Hospital and the kindness of my friends while I was in Berger Hospital. To everyone I greatly appreciated all that was done for me.
Mrs. Robert M. Barnes

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many neighbors, friends and relatives for their countless expressions of kindness and thoughtfulness during the illness and death of our loved one, Charles A. Williams. We also thank Rtv. Shirkey, the organist, the singer Ann Kiser, Funeral Home, Lithopolis, and Dr. Ralph Hosler.
Sincere thanks for the beautiful floral offerings. For all this our everlasting gratitude.
Wife, Mrs. Ethel Willard and brothers, sister and family.

Goalby Sports Fattest Purse

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Bob Goalby, playing out of Crystal River, Fla., today clung to first place in professional golf's 1961 money winnings.

Goalby picked up $7,500 by winning the Los Angeles Open Jan. 8. He has collected only $1,300 in two subsequent tournaments, according to the latest figures from PGA headquarters.

Bob Rosburg, former Stanford University star playing out of Overland Park, Kan., is second with $6,700 in prize money.

Dow Finsterwald is third with $4,800, just ahead of Arnold Palmer, 1960 leading money winner, who has $4,600.

BUDDY TO NEIGHBORHOOD, TOO—Star pitcher of the Kansas City Athletics, Bud Daley is the star quarterback and neighborhood idol in Kansas City where he is seen playing touch football in his backyard. Daley is trying to make a real touch with his contract, too, sending Frank Lane's first offer back in a hurry.

Talking Porpoise Aids Navy In Submarine Design Study

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP) — That porpoise the Navy started training a year ago was turned out to be unpredictable and talkative, is expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots and talking ps the best trick she's learned so far.

Expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots — and thus show scientists how to build faster submarines — she still hasn't gone faster than 16.

Scientists hope to overcome her aversion to speed by giving her more room, perhaps an inlet fenced off with antishubmarine netting. Her speed runs so far have been made in a narrow, 315-foot-long tank.

Her ability to talk delights Navy scientists. They're building complicated electronic gear in the hopes that, by duplicating her sounds, they can actually hold conversations.

The porpoise, called Notty after the initials of the Naval Ordnance Test Station here, has learned another trick. She can count out her age, which is four.

She does this by nudging a lever in her private pool. Her trainer, psychologist Ron Turner, says there's no chance that this is just luck. She's been trained to push another lever when she's through counting.

Notty's talking to human ears sounds like a cat in anguish. She also makes noises humans can't hear.

Dr. Rene Engel, head of oceanic research at NOTS, has caught these noises on tape and now is working on a generator to duplicate them.

"Our first step," says Engel, "will be to determine what sounds Notty reacts to. Then we will observe what she does after each type of sound. If we can learn to give orders, maybe she can learn to talk back."

This seven-foot, 200-pound porpoise—she probably will grow to twice this size—also has been taught to wear a collar.

Unless she's smarter than scientists think she is, Notty doesn't know that his collar could be built to contain explosives which could be detonated whenever she approached an enemy vessel.

The collar also could house submarine-detection instruments, but why bother? If she can be taught to talk and count, the day may come when deep-diving Notty will swim alongside an American picket boat and yell:

"Hey, skipper, I just spotted four enemy subs off Kodiak Island at 100 fathoms."

Trout flesh varies in color depending upon the kind of food the fish has eaten.

NEVER FILED RETURN—If Curtis L. Breen (above), 61, files an income tax return this year, it will be his first, by golly. The Bellevue, O., man says he always has paid his taxes via deductions, but never filed a return, as required by law.

Pirates Study 4 Newcomers

Well-Balanced Bucs Give Rookies Chance

NEW YORK (AP)—There's little room for newcomers on the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates but at least two pitchers—Jim Umbricht and Earl Francis—and two outfielders—Donn Clendenon and Henry Mitchell—are going to get more than the usual attention given to rookies in spring training.

Umbricht is a 30-year-old right-hander who had a brief trial last year. Optioned to Columbus, Ohio, he returned with an 8-5 record, a 2.50 earned run percentage and a sinker pitch which he is supposed to have perfected in his minor league hitch.

Francis, 24, had a mediocre 5-4 mark at Columbus but he made a deep impression on Danny Murtaugh in spring training last year and the Pirate manager is anxious for another look at this 6-foot-2, 208 pound right-hander.

Clendenon played at Savannah last year. He led the Southern Association in home runs with 28 and was the second highest batter at .335. He also hit 15 triples and drove in 109 runs. Mitchell, at Salt Lake City, batted an even .300 with 19 homers and 64 RBI.

There are only 11 freshmen on the Pirate roster, more than half of them pitchers. Al Jackson, a southpaw, had a 10-4 record at Columbus; Larry Foss, a right-hander, was 9-5 at Savannah; Tom Parsons, a right-hander, was 12-7 at Salt Lake City; and Tommy Sisk, a first year pitcher, was 6-7 with Burlington of the Three-Eye League.

Elmo Plaskett, a 22-year-old catcher, bears watching as a future big league prospect. A Virgin Island product, the strapping youngster batted .295 at Grand Forks, N. D., drove in 78 runs in only 93 games and was named to the Northern League's all-star team. Presently, he is one of the leading hitters in the Puerto Rico winter league with a .319 mark, 10 homers and 31 runs at Ponce. His homers and RBI lead the league.

Clermont To Pay Part Of Nike Road Costs

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Highway Department has agreed to a $15,000 contribution by Clermont County toward the $168,950 costs for roads at the Nike missile base in nearby Felicity. County officials reported state action Monday. The state last May asked $46,000 from the county toward the Felicity base costs, but county officials said $15,000 was the best they could offer.

Typing, business law and Spanish will be held Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9:30 in Copeland Hall. First class is Feb. 7 at 8 p. m. following registration that evening from 7 to 7:45 p. m.

History government and physical education are scheduled for Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30 in Ewing Hall, Copeland Hall and Grover Center (new men's gym) respectively. First class will be Feb. 2 at 8 p. m. following registration that evening from 7 to 7:45 p. m.

REGISTRATION will be conducted in the classroom of the first class meeting by a representative from the Extension Division. Persons wishing to register in advance may visit the Extension Division office, Room 202, Wilson Hall, or write the Evening School, Division of Extension, Ohio University, Athens, O.

A student should be a high school graduate or over 21 years of age. He may audit the course or take it for credit.

Fees are $10 per credit hour for Ohio residents, $20 per credit hour for non-residents and $2 for registration. They must be paid at the time of registration. Registration by mail must be accompanied by check or money order, payable to Extension Division, Ohio University.

SUB Benefits To Be Cut to Steelworkers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) are being cut by 7½ per cent beginning Feb. 1 for nearly 8,000 unemployed steelworkers in the Cleveland-Lorain area.

Employees of U.S. Steel Corp.'s National Tube plant at Lorain and American Steel & Wire Division in Cleveland received the news Monday that their SUB benefits will be reduced to 60 per cent next month because of depletion of SUB funds.

The funds are set aside under the United Steelworkers union's 1956 contract.

Republic Steel Corp. employees have had their payments reduced to 67½ per cent. Jobless employees of both firms had been cut about $5 to $12 in previous December and January cuts. The new reductions will run $4 to $5.

Under the SUB provisions of the contract, unemployed members ordinarily receive about 65 per cent of take-home earnings from a combination of SUB and state benefits. Steel companies pay 3 cents an hour into the SUB fund. Full benefits are paid as long as the fund does not drop below 75 per cent. Benefits decrease according to the fund's balance.

Flight by Landmarks

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — University of Wisconsin graduate student has found that at least one type of wild bird, the bank swallow, finds its way back home by remembering landmarks.

Theodore Sargent of Harwich, Mass., who is completing three years' research on the homing habits of birds, found that as long as the swallows could see the surrounding terrain from their cage, they had the homing tendency up to 50 miles from their burrows.

When the cages were covered, the birds showed no homeward orientation.

Venezuela Eyes Castro Mischief

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of articles outlining present conditions in Latin America.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press news Analyst
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela today is going through a test of profound importance to the United States and Latin America.

While the rest of the continent watches, President Romulo Betancourt and his supporters are casting aside their fear of Castroism and its potential for mischief in alliance with communism.

The president's forces appear to be confusing and outwitting the Communist-Castroist combine.

They now have a good chance of inflicting a decisive defeat on the extremist alliance and of making it stick.

If they do this, they will have damaged Communist attempts to use Castroism for a heavy cold war offensive throughout Latin America. Venezuela's example can give courage to other continental governments fearful of Castro's hold on the imaginations of violently impatient young men.

The Communists might eventually resort to tactics of desperation and this could mean more trouble for Venezuela.

But for the moment, the Communists and their Castroist allies are quiet. They suffered defeat in their early December attempt to topple the Beancourt government with a general strike. Betancourt's party, the Accion Democrática, supported by Social Christians of the Copei party, showed how tough it could be.

The Communist-Castroist combine knows it was beaten, and the Communists have shifted to the soft line. Obviously they are trying to disassociate themselves from the stigma of defeat, even to blaming all the violence on their allies in the Movimiento de Izquierda Revolucionario, made Cuba's Fidel Castro.

Betancourt's government suspended constitutional guarantees during the recent explosions of violence. Those guarantees remain suspended. And the Communists obviously fear that the government has the power now to paralyze them and Castro followers by imprisoning key leaders and cracking down on their propaganda and subversion efforts.

Betancourt a quarter century ago as himself a Communist so he knows how they work. Today he is probably the man the Communists hate most in all Latin America. He is hated because he can block extremism of the Castro type which might lead to the chaos and confusion which is a classic Communist weapon of cold war.

They hate him, too, because Betancourt has set out to demonstrate that constitutional government can work in Venezuela.

Next: Ryan tells more of the problems that beset Venezuela and how the Betancourt government hopes to meet them with U. S. cooperation.

Local Girl Gets Top Honors from English Council

Patricia Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder, 323 Wood Lane, has been recognized as one of the nation's outstanding students of high school English.

The National Council of Teachers of English has named her a 1960 national winner in its annual Achievement Awards competition.

Last spring a committee of English teachers from Circleville High School nominated Miss Schroeder to represent Circleville in the competition. Two tests, three pieces of composition and two supporting letters from high school personnel were the bases used by a committee of state judges for evaluation nominees.

The NCTE sends to all winners and runner-ups scrolls of recognition, to their high school departments certificates of merit for their effective instructional programs. It also sends to all colleges and universities in the country the list of achieving students with the recommendation that they be considered for appropriate scholarships.

The Council also sends the names of these students to their respective congressmen and governors.

Ironton Death Case Due To Go to Jury

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The first-degree murder case against William Lloyd Sparkman, 34, was expected to go to the jury today. Sparkman, an Ironton truck driver, is accused of fatally shooting Walter Moore, 35, of nearby Coal Grove, at a trucking company's office here where both were employed.

The shooting last June 27 followed an argument over a load assignment given Sparkman by dispatcher Moore. Common Pleas Judge Warren S. Earhart turned down two defense motions to reduce the charge against Sparkman to first-degree manslaughter Monday.

Jackie Starts Redecoration of Living Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new First Lady, embarking on redecorating her White House quarters, intends to stick very closely to the 18th and 19th century period of the presidential mansion.

That's the word from the Kennedys' artist friend, William Walton, who will be in on Jacqueline Kennedy's scheduled art consultations today.

Walton said Mrs. Kennedy wants to make the White House living quarters "look a little warmer and more friendly." No changes are planned in the mansion's public rooms.

Two top figures in Washington art circles, John Walker, director of the National Gallery of Art, and David Finley, chairman of the Commission of Fine Arts, have appointments today with Mrs. Kennedy.

Walton will be there too, the White House announced Monday. He helped out with campaign organizing for Kennedy, and he says now he's helping out his former Georgetown neighbors in planning redecoration of their new home.

Mrs. Kennedy is getting something of an orientation survey of what's what in White House art and history.

Museums have been accustomed to lending paintings to the White House and Walton said Mrs. Kennedy is ascertaining how much borrowed art the White House can use comfortably and what might be available for loan.

The Kennedys will bring some framed 18th century French drawings from their Georgetown home, but plan to buy no additional art works at this time.

CFD Makes Run, Finds No Fire

Circleville Firemen were called to the Ralston Purina Mill at 6:25 p. m. yesterday after being alerted by an automatic alarm at the fire station.

Firemen said the trouble stemmed from a broken sprinkler line. There was no fire and all was reported in order at the local plant.

The U. S. Government Printing Office, the largest such establishment in the world, was created by act of Congress in 1860.
